

Veteran member interview questions

Intro: The mission of the Pain Research, Informatics, Multimorbidities and Education (PRIME) Center of Innovation (COIN) is to study interactions between pain and other health conditions and develop and implement effective interventions to reduce pain and improve health.

The objectives of creating this board are to:

- 1) Engage in collaborative discussion to aid VA researchers and the VA research mission.
- 2) Provide feedback on VA research ideas.
- 3) Provide guidance on the dissemination of research results and best practices by:
 - Identifying strategies to improve the spread and utilization of information
 - Evaluating products and informational materials to ensure they are relevant and useful to consumers
 - Identifying ways to measure the impact of dissemination efforts

What we are looking for in a Veteran Engagement Board member is a Veteran who brings their unique military background, health conditions, and health consumer perspective to the research arena. We want He or she to engage as a stakeholder with the PRIME Center researchers spanning the research process from topic generation to dissemination and implementation of results.
